Nine (9) things That Will Disappear In Our/Your Lifetime

- 1. The Post Office -- They are so deeply in financial trouble that there is probably no way to sustain it long term.
- 2. The Bank Check -- It costs the financial system billions of dollars a year to process cheques. Plastic cards and online transactions will lead to the eventual demise of the cheque.
- 3. The Newspaper -- As for reading the paper online, get ready to pay for it. The rise in mobile I internet devices and e-readers has caused all the newspaper and magazine publishers to form an alliance.
- 4. The Book -- You can browse a bookstore online and even read a preview chapter before you buy. And the price is less than half that of a real book.
- 5. The Land Line Telephone -- Unless you have a large family and make a lot of local calls, you don't need it anymore.
- 6. Music -- This is one of the saddest parts of the change story. The music industry is dying a slow death. Not just because of illegal downloading. It's the lack of innovative new music being given a chance to get to the people who would like to hear it.
- 7. Television -- People are watching TV and movies streamed from their computers. And they're playing games and doing lots of other things that take up the time that used to be spent watching TV.
- 8. The "Things" That You Own -- Windows, Google, and the Mac OS will be tied straight into the Internet. If you click an icon, it will open something in the Internet cloud. If you save something, it will be saved to the cloud.
- 9. Privacy -- (This should come as no surprise!) It's been gone for a long time anyway. But you can be sure that 24/7, "They" know who you are and where you are, right down to the GPS coordinates, and the Google Street View.

All we will have left that can't be changed are "Memories."
